A POPULAR YOUNG DRUMMER.

A Warm Friend Gives a Sketch of His Career .- Greene, Like Wake, Democratic for the First Time.

[Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.] Snow Hill, N. C., Nov. 29 .- Mr. Geo. A. Holderness left for Tarboro yesterday, and, hereafter, will make that delightful and beautiful town his home. His excellent mother, Mrs. Sarah F. Holdernecs, accompanied him and will live with him. They have been residents of our village some thirteen years or more, and we were reluctant to give them up. We trust they will find Tarboro

"A thing of beauty and joy forever."

Geo. Holderness, in his nineteenth year, entered the big army of renowned, lcquacious, indispensable, light-hearted, peregrinating, brainy Drummer Boys some three years ago, through the influence of our largest and most widelyknown merchant. When perfecting arrangements to start George in that business, he sought us, and asked what we thought about it. "Why," said we, "it's the very thing. He'll love it like a duck does water, and mark you, he'll make a brilliant success, and won't be long about it." Our friend enthusiastically agreed with us.

In the short space of three years the young man has risen rapidly. To-day he is demand, and commands a salary | States has been the ruthless action of the above two thousand.

The secret of George's success lies in the fact that he possesses character, abil ity and push. He really is a remarkable young man. His natural intellect is equal to that of most any man pirouetting around on terra firma; and besides. he is very well educated, though he has not a thorough classical finish. Few men can acquire information as rapidly as he can; and he has the happy faculty of keeping and utilizing what comes in his way. If he had given his days and nights to mathematics, we think there would be but few men in the State to rival him among both the young and the old. We feel assured there is not a young man of his age within our borders as well posted as he is in State and national politics.

George is a multifarious and voracious reader; enjoys manly sports; seeks only the best, the most polished society, and dearly loves his good old mother, and takes the very best care of her. We have crowded a heap into the last sentence, because we have not time to amplify.

Greene, for the first time since the war, will swear in to-morrow (Monday) all Democrats, from the highest to the lowest office in the county.

ANDY PLOWBOY.

FOR SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE.

[Special Cor. of STATE CHRONICLE.]

Seeing that different sections are advocating certain gentlemen for the position of Speaker of the next House of Representatives, I write to say that Forsyth has no candidate, as alas! her representative belongs to a crowd that we are thankful cannot be Speaker; still we are date for President of the Farmers' interested in the matter, and would like to see our friend, R. A. Doughton, of Alleghany, honored with the responsible position. Mr. Doughton has had three years' experience as a member of the House, and his record is sound, showing him to be a state-man of wisdom and caution. He would not detract anything from the merits of the other gentlemen nominated, but we feel assured that we simply speak words of truth when we say that in point of being well balanced, conservative, prudent, diligent and thoroughly equipped for the office, that there is no man in the State that could fill the requirements of Speaker better than Mr. Doughton.

The other gentlemen named are from sections of the State that have heretofore been honored, while Alleghany, always true to the Democratic party, has never received any recognition at the hands of our party. The same might be said of his section of the State; so let us reward a good man by recognizing a Democratic section that never before asked anything, and in doing so we will do well for the interest of the State. Mr. Doughton is a lawyer, but deeply interested in farming, and his previous record on the school line, railroad commission matter, money question, election laws, and other important bills heretofore before the Legislature, will show that he can be trusted to do what is for the best interest of our State. Give us Doughton of Alleghany, and we will think that safe hands are directing the law making power of the State. "Winston."

W. N. C. CONFERENCE.

FULL LIST OF THE APPOINT-MENTS MADE.

The Discussion Upon the Question of Adopting an Organ-Three Papers Were Recommended but Neither of Them Adopted.

(Condensed from Concord Standard.) Major Robbins introduced a substitute, the substance of which was to commend all these papers (the Raleigh Advocate, the Statesville Advocate and the Asheville Methodist) to the people, to recommend that every Methodist family take one, if not all of them, and resolved that all official matters of the conference should be furnished impartially to each

For an hour the pres and cons of the amendment were discussed.

Malor Robbins had not meant to impugn anybody's motives in his Saturday's speech. If he had done so, he was ready to apologize.

Here are three newspapers; I do assure you that if you sit down on two Western N. C. newspapers to-day and adopt the organ of another conference, a great many people will say they have assigned us an inferior position; you must guard against that. The ruin of this United majority regardless of the feelings of the minority; that is the reason this country the rule of the majority is exercised for an organ. (Applause.) Dr. Reid: As to personal matters, I accept most gladly Bro. Robbins' statement that he recalls anything like a personal reflection on myself or anybody else. As this Conference knows, I have been a man of peace, and for fear that, if a majority should vote down this substitute, there should still be discord, I stand ready to sacrifice any interest that I may have, and say that I will accept, so far as I am personally concerned, his proposition. (Applause.)

[REV. C. D. SMITH, D. D., who was in Raleigh yesterday, tells the Chronicle that Dr. Reid made a noble speech, showing a love of the church and its peace above all personal interests or gains. He was particularly complementary of Dr. Reid's speech and action. -

There was a general discussion and then Major Robbins' substitute was adopted.

At Asheville Next Year. Upon the invitation of H. A. Gudger, Esq, the Conference will meet at Asheville next year.

I never lose the impression of true sublimity of such an occasion as this; it grows upon me continually and I am more persuaded now than I was twenty, thirty, fifty years ago, when I used to take an appointment myself, that the providence of God is in these appointments. You hear a great many foolish men say it is the Presiding Elder, or some one else of influence; oh, no, let them exert all the influence they please, you are in the hands of God. He has prepared the field for you; He has anticipated your going and he wants exactly such a man as you are, and if you do your duty you can do more than anybody else could, no matter how capable he may be according to the estimate of the

As you get older you will find that you have wasted a great deal of time to side issues; brethren, get wise; waste no time in side issues; preach Christ and righteousness, so the Holy Spirit can use the text and the sermon; do not preach on nothing and everything and something; try to preach upon Christ; life is what we want, and power, and this is what Methodism holds forth to the world, a system of life and religion. Religion is simply existence; it is only knowing Jesus. Now preach that. Oh, what a luxury it is to hear a good sermon from a man who has put his whole soul into it, who has worked had over it and then gone into the closet with it, and shows as much of the closet as it does of the lamp. That is the sort of preaching that will take the world, and why should we not take it? I invoke the blessing of God upon you, my dear brethren, especially the outpouring of the Holy Ghost. May you be blest; may your families be blest; may you have great comfort at home, and great and continual trust in God. The Lord will take care of you and feed you; you will not starve; your children will be educated, and when you are gone they will do about as well as other people's children.

RADICAL DEVILTRY. Niue of the New Hanover Canvassing Board Indicted.

In the Federal court this week a "true bill" was found against Walker Taylor, E. G. Parmele, T. G Pickett, William Ulrich, J. M. McGowan, E.W. Manning, B. S. Montford, and Will West, members of the late canvassing board of New Hanover county for failing to canvass the vote of Cape Fear Township for Representative in Congress in the recent election. This, it is claimed, is in violation 5,515 of the Revised Statues of then let's remove it. the United States, which is as follows: "Every officer of an election at which any Representative or delegate in Congress is voted for, whether such officer of election be appointed or created by or under any law or authority of the United States, or by or under any State, territorial, district, or municipal law or authority, who neglects or refuses to perform any duty in regard to such election required of him by any law of the United States, or of any State or territoimposed; or who knowingly does any acis thereby unauthorized, with intent to affect any such elections, or the result thereof; or who fraudutently makes any false certificate of the result of such eof any such Representatives or Delegate, tempts to do so, shall be punished as prescribed in section fifty-five hundred and ten." fine of one thousand dollars, or by im-of such sections made a crime, or ator who refuses to make and return such prisonment not more than one year, or the presecuting witness; so the indictment is based on ex parte Republican testimony, and amounts to nothing. Of course, the grand jury was not accurately advised as to all the facts, or a true bill would not have been found. And in this connection it may be suggested that it would be eminently proper for some grand jury to take cognizance of the acts of the Radical negro who Charlotte, Tryon street-Solomon withheld the books from the legally appointed Register of Cape Fear township, and thus by force and, as is currently reparted, under the advice of white Re> publicans, prevented a legal election. This whole proceeding is a piece of Ralical devilty set on foot for the sole purpose of harrassing and intimidating the Democratic canvassers who had the nerve and honesty to reject the returns of a township in which a most outrageous violation of the election law the salient feature. But the efforts of the Tom-Reed lawyers, whether adipose or attenuated, will utterly fail of their purpose, in both the State and Federal courts, in the notice in your paper to-day (December 2d): "It is rumored that, under the advice of the ministers of the other churches there (the M. P. church excepted), the Young Men's Christian Association declined to extend an invitation to him. Our informant was not advised of the reasons that actuated the ministers, but learned that Mr. Fife seemed hurt and surprised." Please let me say through your paper that I, for one of the ministers of Henderson, have never advised the Y. M. C. A. to invite, or not to invite Mr. Fife to this place. If any of the ministers of Henderson did as your informant says, I know nothing of it. The coming of Mr. Fife to Henderson was talked over in the minister's conference. I expressed my purpose to hear vidual. THE COLUMBIAN FAIR.

THE GRANDEST STATE IN THE UNION SHOULD HAVE THE GRANDEST EXHIBIT AT CHICAGO.

There is Need for a First-Class Geolog. ical Map of North Carolina -- The Opinion of a Great Inventor Quoted. (Special Cor., to STATE CHRONICLE.)

SALISBURY, N. C., Nov. 29.-I grasp the hand of Peter M. Wilson and heartily endorse his suggestion that preparation for a great exhibit from North Carolina at the World's Fair in Chicago should begin at once.

Previous efforts along this line at Boston, New Orleans and Raleigh astonished not only strangers but ourselves as well. We have never done our bestand never can. Above and beneath the sun-kissed soil of this grand old State there be such vast stores of wealth that any effort to make a collection of specimens to indicate its real extent can but be futile; but we can easily step to the front of any other State in showing a variety of resources, and we ought to do it. North Carolina is not receiving her just proportion of the money that is steadily flowing into the South, nor are the brainy men of the country paying so much attention to her as to other sections. Why is this? We don't know why, but we ought to try to learn. Maybe it is because they don't know what we really possess. If that be the difficulty, Let's organize, and organize early.

Then let's begin work, and begin early, and let's show the millions of people who will go from every quarter of the globe to Chicago in '92 that North Carolina is the greatest State in the sisterhood of States that form this, the grandest country upon which the stars shine.

Should the Legislature take action? Unquestionably. It should give the matter the most careful consideration. and it should provide unsparingly, if ry thereof; or who violates any duty so need be, for a collection and arrangement of the most complete exhibit of resources and the most systematic and thorough setting forth of advantages that we have ever yet made.

Our mountains of marble, of slate and lection in regard to such Representative of granite; our mother lodes of mangaor Delegate; or who withholds, conceals | nese, iron and coal; our rich fissues of silor destroys, any certificates of record so | ver, of gold and of copper stretching required by law respecting the election | along our part of the great Apalachian belt; our broad areas of native wood land, where the poplar, the pine, the walnut, the maple and all other woods certificates as required by law; or who aids, counsels, procures, or advises any known in the kingdom of forestry voter, person, or officer, to do any act by abound inexhaustibly; our broad valleys this or any other preceeding sections and fields, on which grow almost sponmade a crime, or to omit to do any duty | taneously nearly every stalk and plant the omission of which is by this or any known to agriculture. All these things we have and we know it. Let's show the world that we have them, and invite men and money to come and to keep coming, and aid us The punishment, on conviction, is a in our grand new era of industrial development. Let the Legislature help and let all the people help, and as at Boston our exhibit The Wilmington Star says: Lockey is at Chicago will speak to the industrial world in tones that will be heard and > heeded. In this connection there is one other important thing the Legislature ought to do. It ought to inaugurate plans and appropriate sufficient money for making and publishing a correct and complete geological map of North Carolina, to be made not from what "grandpa told uncle John," but from actual and careful surveys made by the best engineers and geologists that can be secured. One of the most eminent men in America said to me recently:

> "I am surprised that your State, possessing as it does such vast deposits of mineral and metal, should not have a reliable geological map," "and the money that it will cost to have one made," he continued, "will be the best investment your State has ever made."

Let's get ourselves in readiness and then step up where we belong-in the very front of progressive States. F. B. ARENDELL.
